

U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention

CS320288-H

EMPOWERING

Core Training

Delivers critical infection control content via short and accessible training videos that address immediate workforce infection control training needs.

Practical Tools

Provides tools to help everyone working in a healthcare facility implement infection control protocols and procedures throughout their work day.

IMMERSIVE

Partner Engagement

Shares information across all healthcare settings through trusted partners and channels and ensures that training content and tools are delivered to healthcare workers who need them.

Mentorship

Connects infection control experts with their local healthcare community so that they may become an ongoing resource.

PROJECT FIRSTLINE

CDC's National Training Collaborative for Healthcare Infection Control

CDC's Project Firstline is a collaborative of diverse healthcare and public health partners that aims to provide engaging, innovative, and effective infection control training for millions of frontline U.S. healthcare workers as well as members of the public health workforce.

Project Firstline's innovative content is designed so that—regardless of a healthcare worker's previous training or educational background—they can understand and confidently apply the infection control principles and protocols necessary to protect themselves, their facility, their family, and their community from infectious disease threats, such as COVID-19.

LASTING RESULTS

Public Health Capacity

Leverages the public health workforce for technical capacity building, including knowledge and tool sharing between public health departments and their local clinical communities.

Innovation

Deepens knowledge to better inform infection control recommendations, and develops innovative platforms and content to provide highly accessible training tailored to a diverse range of adult learners.

The power to stop infections. Together.
#WEAREFIRSTLINE
WWW.CDC.GOV/PROJECTFIRSTLINE

ARE YOU A FRONTLINE HEALTHCARE WORKER? IF SO WE WANT TO HEAR FROM YOU!

The New Jersey Department of Health is collaborating with CDC's Project Firstline, a nationwide initiative to provide infection prevention and control training to frontline healthcare workers.

WE NEED HELP WITH:

Taking a quick 10 minute survey to better

- Understand your experiences with infection prevention & control training
- Develop and deliver future training

Interested in helping?

CLICK HERE

OR

SCAN BELOW

